"They were the obvious choice for the stadium openers, they're a great rock band"

KELLY JONES - STEREOPHONICS

4th Street have an anthemic stadium rock sound, their music is ripe with infectious hooks and thorax exhausting choruses that rattle around in your head for days. Their live shows are energetic and unforgettable, keeping the audience completely in the palm of their hands.

Having toured and supported some of the UK's biggest bands they have a loyal growing fan base earned with sheer determination. They are a band that have stuck to their guns, not quivered under the pressure of the spotlight and continued to produce the sound that defines them.

Currently touring and promoting their 3rd Album "Claim to Fame" independently released digitally on all major using AWAL. All hard copies distributed across Wales in independent record shops, also Asda and Tesco stores with the help of Music Wales Ltd.

"Great band guys, you have a massive sound"
